Our City comment & discussion by THOMAS D. WATSON

How Cities
May Attain
Publicity
By
Advertising

THE publicity division of the Burbank chamber of commerce met last evening to discuss ways and means of giving publicity to its city. A number of plans were suggested by those present, but nothing of a definite nature was decided.

The subject of publicity is one that should be given a great deal of study, for it is just as necessary for a city to advertise as it is for a private enterprise.

The value of advertising is based on its consistency. In other words, a campaign of advertising for a given period is more desirable than a stray advertisement now and again.

THE cities of the San Fernando valley have so many advantages to offer the stranger or homeseeker that they should broadcast them all over the country.

A great many residents of the eastern states are either planning or hoping to ultimately live in California. The hard winter the middle west and eastern sections of the country is now experiencing, along with the shortage of coal, adds another inducement to live in California.

THE chamber of commerce, we believe, is the proper agency to handle the advertising of a city. An advertising fund should be maintained separate from the other funds for the purpose of advertising and this advertising should be done in a scientific way. This fund should be maintained, not by members of the chamber alone, but by all of the merchants and citizens of the city for this advertising will have a direct bearing on the business they will do.

IN order to arrive at an equitable basis of securing the funds we would suggest an agreement be reached by the merchants whereby a certain percentage of gross sales be given each month. This percentage would be so small that the individual business would scarcely notice the amount, but in the aggregate would be sufficient for the purpose in view.

We would also suggest that when the city council prepares the next budget a percentage of the tax levy be appropriated for advertising purposes, with the understanding that the chamber of commerce publicity section should expend the money.

THE Glendale city council at their meeting last night voted not to join the chamber of commerce this year in their clean-up week campaign.

George Karr, chairman of the civics committee, of the chamber of commerce, presented the matter to the council, but by a vote of two to three they refused to grant his request.

The reason given by the council was on account of the cost. It is estimated the campaign this year would cost about $600. We are of the opinion that this money would be well spent and the entire city benefited by the good accomplished.

ONE member of the city council suggested that the people should keep their own places clean. This is an argument, but there is a great deal of rubbish around the city which should be taken care of by the citizens at large.

We would recommend that this matter be considered and that the city council, the chamber of commerce and all citizens join together in a clean-up week, which will make Glendale shine.

Talent Amateurs Wanted By the City Actors

The Glendale Community Players extend a cordial invitation to all talented amateurs to join their ranks. Men and women of all ages who can sing, dance, play any instruments, or who have any ambition to act, will find pleasant opportunities for displaying their abilities, and incidentally make congenial acquaintances. Phone director, Glendale 394.

THE WEATHER

San Francisco: Tonight and Saturday, fair; light northwesterly winds.
Southern California and all valleys: Fair tonight and Saturday, light northerly winds.

WILSON AVENUE BOYS CAPTURE TROPHY IN INTERMEDIATE MEET

Never So Gorgeous a Display of Freak Costumes Seen

COME BY SCOOTERS

Medley of Wild Ideas Are Shown in Outfits of Boys and Girls

Jinks Day dawned early in Glendale and the auroral display was not disappointing. Never was it more gorgeous in coloring nor heralded with more joy and laughter.

None of the students had occasion to give explanations of tardiness at the office for all arrived early that they might miss none of the features of the carnival. Some came in scooters with wild shouts and commotion. Others were trailing toys and flying balloons.

The boys seemed naturally to run to clowns, hobos, rubes, bolsheviks—anything that means rags, dirt and disorder, but even here there was the variety afforded by convict stripes, snake charming outfits, costumes of Turks, Arab sheiks, cowboys, soldiers and sailors, bandmasters, dudes, fauntleroyes, chinamen, doctors, clergymen, farmers, plumbers, firemen, and all the other variations of race, cast, profession and avocation.

The girls were old fashioned maids with tight skirts, corsetwaists and mincing steps; were gypsies; Turkish beauties, heavily veiled; little school girls in gingham gowns and sunbonnets; old ladies, grisettes, Oriental dancers, red cross nurses, and the majority like the boys were a riot of combinations, representing nothing under the sun except jinks, a delirium tremens of color and design that would do credit to the modern impressionist school of art.

Mr. and Mrs. Moyle were content to be spectators, but a good many of the faculty members entered into the day's sport wholeheartedly. Miss Corry was a scream in a wonderful nondescript, apparently representing a freckled little tomboy. Mr. Fullen and Mr. Irving Oliver were in overalls; Mr. Borncamp gave a good representation of a blind man.

It is a matter of congratulation to the students and the mad parents and friends that the recollection of this wonderful assemblage is to be aided by the camera. At noon a panorama was taken, and at 3:30 a moving picture of the campus parade which will include some special stunts arranged by the students to give variety, and also some scenes from the faculty show to be given tonight.

FUTURE OF WEST LIES IN POWER, SAYS SENATOR

[By Associated Press]
PASADENA, March 23.—That the day was coming when the hydro-electric energy developed in the west would be linked together in one vast system of which the Boulder dam would be only one of many available sites, was the declaration of Senator W. G. Norris, of Nebraska, member of the congressional investigating party, who were entertained in Pasadena last evening at a dinner at the Valley Hunt Club. Senator Norris stated that these projects, to be of greatest benefit to residents in the great west, must be under government control. He predicted an undreamed-of future for electricity, and said that he believed the time was coming when this power would revolutionize civilization. He declared there was only one step necessary to this reality and that was a practical storage battery.

Addison T. Smith, representative from Idaho, chairman of the committee on irrigation, declared that the Colorado river project was second in importance to the Panama canal, and stated his belief that during the next session of congress appropriation would be made for the undertaking of this work.

UNIFORM DRESS FOR GIRLS ASKED BY THE GLENDALE P. T. A.

At the meeting of the executive board of the Glendale Avenue Intermediate P. T. A., which preceded the regular session held Thursday afternoon at the school, a vote was taken to request the high school authorities to establish a uniform dress for girls of middies and skirts. There was also discussion of ways and means of raising money to pay for the school homograph.

Emil Ames, an attorney of Los Angeles, was the speaker at the full meeting which was well attended, and over which Mrs. W. C. Wattles presided, his theme being the "Psychology of Child Thought."

Because of the track meet which the mothers wished to witness, the session was short.

P. E. BUS LINE APPLICATION IS REJECTED

Motion Made by Sam Davis Is "Without Prejudice"

The application of the Pacific Electric company for permission to extend its present bus lines, which are feeders to its electric line, in Glendale, was turned down by the Glendale city council Thursday night after a heated argument in which Godfrey Edwards, member of the realty firm of Edwards & Willey, speaking in favor of the granting of the application, and a number of leading citizens of Glendale, taking the opposition, were heard. The hearing last night was continued from Monday evening.

The motion to refuse to grant the permit was made by Councilman Sam Davis. It was as follows: "I move that the application of the Pacific Electric company to extend its bus lines in Glendale be denied without prejudice." The motion was taken Davis, Lapham, Robinson and Kimlin voted "aye," and Councilman Stephenson, on account of being attorney for the Glendale Motor Bus company, was disqualified. The expression "without prejudice" makes it possible for the Pacific Electric to apply again if other bus companies do not erect efficient lines in Glendale within a reasonable time.

THE Y. M. C. A. BOYS ENJOY EASTER CRUISE

A group of Glendale and Burbank Y. M. C. A. boys are to enjoy an Easter cruise to the Santa Cruz islands next week under the patronage of Secretary Rex Kelley and H. L. Butterfield. Captain Collins' boat has been chartered for the trip and will leave early Monday morning with the following on board: Paul Edmonds, Charles Thompson, Marion Morrison, John Judd, Tom Wood, Allen McCormick, Newton McGillis, H. Rucker, H. L. Butterfield and Mr. Kelley, all of Glendale, and Carl and William Hanner, S. Richmond, Paul Sander, Douglas Daniels, M. Dunham and Robert Mead of Burbank.

Fishing, boating and hunting the island on which they will camp, will be the diversions of the week and the party will return by way of Catalina the last of the week.

REALTY BOARD HAS APPRAISAL COMMITTEE

An appraisal committee consisting of C. E. Thom, W. A. Horn, Charles B. Guthrie, James W. Pearson and J. F. Stanford, all members of the Glendale Realty board, has been chosen by a committee from the board appointed for that purpose.

The purpose of this committee will be to provide appraisals of Glendale property for anyone who may desire them.

PAVING COMMITTEE MEETS

The pavement committee of the Glendale Advancement association is meeting this afternoon at the office of W. E. Mercer, 624 East Broadway, for the purpose of determining the kind of pavement that should be installed on Glendale avenue.

This meeting was called for two o'clock. All types of pavement will be considered, including Warrenite, Willite, cement, concrete, and other kinds.

Venice Boulevard Is Proposed Before Commission

VENICE, March 23.—The opening of Venice boulevard, one of the main arteries leading into Venice, was proposed at a meeting of the Venice city planning commission last night. Purchase of the Pacific Electric right of way and the paving of the land between the tracks, so as to form a broad highway is included in the plans. Petitions are being prepared by the planning commission.

ROTARIANS TO UNDERWRITE SCOUT CAMP

Plans Are Made at Meeting Held Yesterday by the Club

Plans to underwrite the Boy Scout camp in Haynes canyon were made yesterday at the regular meeting of the Glendale Rotary club. Al Eastman was requested to make a report on the trip of the Rotary club to Haynes canyon, where the permanent Boy Scout camp is being planned. Jack Huntley also told of this trip, and made a suggestion that the necessary amount for the first payment might be raised by selling cabin sites to Rotary club members. Glendale Verdugo park was suggested by Val Hollister as a location for a Boy Scout camp. President Roy Kent stated that it would not be suitable for Boy Scout purposes.

A plan of underwriting the Haynes canyon project was suggested by Jack Huntley, who stated he would be willing to underwrite it to the extent of $500. Roy Kent advised that he would be willing to do the same, and the following 13 signified their willingness to underwrite $100 each: Rule Downing, George Bentley, George Karr, Bill Hunter, Bill Howe, J. I. Wernette, Ed Hewitt, Rene Olin, Arthur Dibern, Al Eastman, Val Hollister, Captain T. D. Watson and Dan Kelly.

The secretary read a telegram which was sent by the Glendale Rotary club to Postmaster General Harry S. New, and also one to Senator Shortridge and Congressman Lineberger. A reply had been received from Senator Shortridge advising that an additional $250 had been allowed the Glendale postoffice for March. A reply was also read from Congressman Lineberger advising that the Glendale postoffice was having special consideration. A letter was read from the assistant postmaster general regarding the recent cut in the postoffice appropriation.

George Moyle, chairman of the educational committee, gave a report and also called the members' attention to the new high school plant being erected and suggested that they visit the site. Owen Emery, chairman of boys' work committee, made a report on the work of that committee, especially in regards to boys' work, which will be held in June.

Arthur Dibern brought the matter of the airport purchase before the club, and recommended that the Rotary club approve the coming bond election. Jim Rhodes also talked on the proposition, and the club went on record as endorsing the project.

In the absence of France Henry, the regular song leader, Owen Emery officiated in that capacity, but was not kept very busy on account of the time being short. It was announced that the annual election of officers will take place the fourth Thursday in April.

A goodly number of visiting Rotarians were present among them being Ben Barnard of Mitchell, South Dakota; John Estenson of Blackfoot, Idaho; Arthur McCord, of Los Angeles; R. L. Anderson, of Kingman, Ariz.; John C. Stannard, of Alameda, and William Byers, of Champaign, Ill. Dr. H. V. Brown of Glendale was also a visitor.

On account of a lack of time the "Business Methods" meeting was postponed until next Thursday.

PARLIAMENTARIANS TO HOLD MUSICAL EVENING APRIL 7

The parliamentary law section of the Tuesday Afternoon club, of which Mrs. C. A. Brandstater is curator, is planning to have a musical program composed of Glendale talent presented at the club auditorium on Saturday evening, April 7, at 8 o'clock. Mrs. Virginia Freeman will have charge of the vocal work and will be assisted by several Glendale artists. Harold Brewster, instructor at Glendale high school, will give several dramatic readings. The Broadway girls, who were educated in Paris, are planning to present a group of solo and duet piano numbers. A nominal charge of 25c is to be made.

Glendale Music Club Has First Concert in the Tuesday Club Home

The Glendale Music club will hold its first concert in its new meeting place, the Tuesday Afternoon club, next Friday night, and Miss Frieda Pevcke, who is such a favorite in Glendale, will be the artist of the evening.

In the new auditorium it will be possible for members to make use of their guest cards as they were not able to do in the high school, and it is believed a brilliant audience will greet Miss Puycke.

BILTMORE TO AID CITY IN DEVELOPMENT

C. of C. Committee Reports It Is Supporting Its Plans

That the Biltmore Improvement association, which met Thursday at the Melrose hotel, 120 South Grand avenue, Los Angeles, is directly back of the widening and improving of Glendale boulevard, between Los Angeles and Glendale, was the report brought back from the meeting by the committee from the Glendale chamber of commerce, consisting of P. J. Hayselden, chairman, Peter Perry and Harry White. Several improvement associations and private parties were represented at this meeting and everyone thought the improving of Glendale boulevard would be a grand thing. Lengthy discussion was also given to the Second street tunnel proposition.

MOUNTAIN HIKE IS POPULAR WITH SCOUTS

Application for Mount Gleason Trip Swamp Executive

Applications to go on the Boy Scout pioneer hike to the summit of Mount Gleason during Easter vacation are swamping the local scout office, according to Leah L. Pardon, office secretary, who has charge of tabulating and checking them up.

"The original plans of the hike have been altered just a trifle," said Frank C. Ayars, chairman of the camping committee this morning. "Instead of hiking to the summit of Mount Gleason the first day, the Scouts will make camp at Iron Mountain. This will not only make the going easier, but will give the boys an opportunity to collect and identify wild flowers on their way. The mountain wild flowers are coming out quite profusely now as the feeling of spring is in the air."

The second day the hikers will reach the top of Mount Gleason. The hike back through the North Fork of Mint Canyon and then on down the Big Tujunga canyon will be conducted as originally planned.

Scout Executive Harold Benner will be in personal charge of the Scouts. "It is very important," he said this morning, "that those who are going to furnish automobiles to convey the Scouts to the Big Tujunga meet at Brand and Broadway, Glendale, not later than 7 o'clock Monday morning. It is equally as important that they meet the Scouts at 4 p. m. at the mouth of the Big Tujunga, Thursday, March 23."

BRIBERY CHARGED IN TEN MILLION BOOZE CASE

(By Associated Press)
 NEW YORK, March 23.—Two brothers probably will be arraigned today before United States Commissioner Hitchcock on charges of attempted bribery of two high prohibition officials to connive in the release of $10,000,000 worth of whiskey from a Brooklyn warehouse.

The charges will be made by Acting Director John A. Murphy and his chief assistant, Lester A. Reeves, who announced last night what they regarded as one of the biggest coups in prohibition enforcement. The announcement followed arrest of the brothers, Charles and Ralph Sabbatino, owners of the warehouses. Other arrests may follow.

The prohibition men charge the brothers had "go-betweens" open negotiations in a conspiracy to release large stores of liquor from the warehouse.

The brothers, according to the agents, planned to empty the warehouse of its $10,000,000 stock, paying $10,000 a block for forged permits.

GLENDALÉ SCENE IN FRONT PAGE STORY

Location of Film at the Glendale Is Identified
 by Press Staff

BY CORINNE ORFF

"The Front Page Story," although revealing the trials and tribulations of a small town newspaper, had many of its scenes laid in "the fastest growing city in America." How many of you who attended the showing of this film at the Glendale Theatre recognized this fact. The Glendale city hall building and also the building at Wilson and Glendale avenues, which was supposed to be the headquarters for the "Gazette," were some of the more familiar scenes which were easily recognized by the employees of the Glendale Daily Press, who with their husbands, wives and sweethearts were guests of Wm. A. Howe, manager of the Glendale Theatre, at last night's show.

The plot of the story is based on the prejudices which exist between Gotham, the mayor, who believes that the "Gazette" is trying to dictate how the city should be run, and the editor of that small town journal, who believes that the mayor is trying to run his paper. Edward Horton, who is the leading man in the film, through some very clever manipulation, secured a note of $5,000 which the mayor had purchased from the bank and the payment on which was long overdue from the editor of the Gazette. This enterprising young man is then given a partnership in the paper and endeavors to have the mayor and editor become friends.

It is only when the young partner insists upon running "A Front Page Story" on the truth about the mayor that the latter and the editor, both of whom are hardest in their ways, have it out. They decide that the only way to stop this "outrage" is to buy out the young partner, who refuses to sell to anyone but the old editor. The mayor furnishes the money for the deal, but in the meantime the paper is off the press and on the streets. The truth about the mayor, as the story appeared, showed him as a very philanthropic and public spirited official, when in fact of course everyone is very happy and they declare the truth about the mayor to be the best "Front Page Story" which has ever appeared in the Gazette. Romance between the editor's daughter and the young partner runs through the entire picture.

MRS. A. A. BASSETT IS PAINFULLY HURT AT GUILD MEET

Mrs. A. A. Bassett, president of St. Mark's Guild of the Episcopal church, had the misfortune to trip and sprain her foot yesterday at the guild meeting. The injury was quite painful and she was taken home, where she is resting easier today. In her absence the business session was in charge of Mrs. B. O. Holbrook. The remainder of the afternoon was spent in sewing.

ODD FELLOWS HOLD REGULAR MEETING

A very largely attended meeting of the Odd Fellows' lodge of Glendale was held last night at the L. O. O. F. hall at Orange and Broadway, with 175 present. The initiatory degree was put on for a class of one candidate. M. E. Brown acted as noble grand and R. Reeder gave the past grand's charge in a very complimentary manner. A surprise dinner was served by the members of the Rebekah lodge after the business meeting.

Plans are being made for a big time next Thursday night when the members of the Van Nuys lodge are coming here to put on the second degree. A chicken supper will be served after the meeting.

ORANGE BLOSSOM COFFEE

The only difference is in the price!

ORANGE BLOSSOM Coffee costs less than other high grade coffee because it is packed in glass-lined bags instead of expensive tin containers. To prevent the coffee from losing its flavor and strength, Orange Blossom is roasted and ground every day and supplied to grocers in limited quantities—just enough for immediate demands. As a result, it actually reaches the consumer within a day or two after leaving the roaster.

Give Orange Blossom a trial. It goes farther—makes more cups per pound than any other brand.

MUSIC SECTION SCORES SUCCESS

Artistic Concert Produces
Many Hundred Dollars for Piano Fund

A brilliant scene and a success financially and otherwise, was the concert given Thursday evening in the auditorium of the Tuesday Afternoon club, under the auspices of the music section of which Mrs. Warren Roberts is curator. It is believed the section will realize between $400 and $500 from the affair for the piano fund.

Some time before the concert began the doors were opened that the public might have opportunity to inspect the new club home, members of the executive board and the music section being in line to welcome guests. Most of the men present were in evening dress and the ladies beautifully gowned.

Artists were introduced by Mrs. Roberts, who was surprised by the gift to the section of a very beautiful basket of flowers from the Oakmont Country club.

Flora Myers sang, the vocal soloist, having been taken suddenly ill, her place on the program was filled most acceptably by Raymond Harmon, who generously made sacrifices to help out with the program.

Interest centered in the Brahms van den Berg numbers not alone because of his local popularity but because the audience looked to him to reveal the fine quality of the splendid instrument the section has purchased for the club.

In his opening group the "Staccato" by Rubinstein, displayed his technique to wonderful advantage and drew great applause as did all his numbers, enthusiasm climaxing however, in his encore number, the third "Liebestraum" by Liszt.

Mr. Harmon's rendition of Gounod's "Ave Maria" in which he was accompanied by the third artist, Calmon Lubovisky, violinist, was much enjoyed as were all his contributions to the program, his opening numbers including two French songs, the melodious "Songs My Mother Used to Sing." Especially pleasing was the audience with the stunner song which he sang as an encore number and "Entre Nous."

Mr. Lubovisky gratified music lovers with a program including many numbers familiar and loved, and the applause testified to the special enjoyment of the encore number which followed Kreisler's "Lieberfreund No. 1."

PRESTON PARTY RETURNS FROM MEXICO

Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Preston of 330 North Jackson street, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. W. W. McElroy and Mr. and Mrs. M. P. Harrison returned Tuesday night from a motor trip to Mexico. They left Glendale last Friday and went first to Riverside, Banning, Palm Springs, Palm Canyon, and Coachella. At the latter place they visited the Harry Howe and Skiles families, who were former residents of Glendale. From Coachella the party then motored to El Centro and visited Perry Rogers, brother of Mrs. D. Brant of North Kenwood street, and from there went to Mexico and home by way of San Diego.

YELLOW LUNCHEON IS GIVEN BY MISS IDA MYERS

Miss Ida Myers of 1607 South San Fernando road, on Thursday at 1 o'clock, entertained with a yellow luncheon members of the board of directors of the General Richard Gridley Chapter of the D. A. R. Yellow daffodils centered the table, and table appointments included yellow bonbon baskets and Easter place cards, the guest list including Mrs. C. W. Houston, Mrs. J. A. Crawford, Mrs. S. C. Leppel, Mrs. T. W. Preston, Mrs. W. N. Rathbun, Mrs. S. H. Butterfield, Mrs. Walter Lyman.

PASSING OF GREAT DR. HADDEN DRAWS CRITIC BRINGS SORROW HERE

Word has come from New York of the sudden death on March 20 of Mr. H. E. Krehbiel, music editor and critic of the New York Tribune, author and lecturer.

He was the brother of Mrs. F. S. Morgan of 124 East Acacia avenue and Mrs. C. F. Kuhnle of West Maple avenue, who deeply mourn his passing.

For many years Mr. Krehbiel of the Tribune, Mr. Henderson of the Times, and Huneker of the Sun, were the controlling factors of musical careers in America.

ALPHA CHAPTER OF DELPHIAN CLUB MEETS

The members of Alpha chapter of the Glendale Delphian club, held their regular monthly meeting yesterday at the home of Mrs. Charles Marshall, 525 South Central avenue, beginning at 10 o'clock. Mrs. E. D. Yard presided, with Mrs. E. A. Bode as secretary. A very interesting and instructive program on "Roman History" was presented by the Lotus group, Mrs. Charles Marshall leader, and included the following numbers: "Roman History" by Mrs. C. S. 509; "By Mrs. H. W. Yank" "Roman Ideals as Shown in Macaulay's 'Lays of Ancient Rome,'" by Mrs. B. Manbert; "The Struggle of the Plebs for Political Rights," by Mrs. P. O. Lucas; "Roman Houses," by Mrs. J. Zinke; "Roman Amusements and Diversions," by Mrs. P. C. Mason; "Temple of Vesta and the Vestal Virgins," by Mrs. R. W. Russell; "Pompeii, Roman Seaport," by Mrs. D. W. Stephenson; conclusion, by Mrs. Charles Marshall.

After the meeting, luncheon was enjoyed and a number of the members left for the assembly meeting held at the Ebel clubhouse in Los Angeles. The next chapter will be held April 26, at 10 a. m., at the public library.

EPWORTH LEAGUE MEMBERS BANQUET

Members of the Epworth League of the First Methodist church enjoyed a banquet Wednesday evening at which Rev. Henry Rasmus, Jr., was the speaker, his theme being "Vegetables" or "My Garden in My Life." It was a vegetable dinner and Mr. Rasmus cleverly succeeded in giving his theme a spiritual application. There will be Passion week services at the church every evening next week.

TRIO OF EASTER SERVICES ANNOUNCED

The Glendale Presbyterian church is announcing a trio of Easter services beginning Saturday night when the choir under Mrs. Fannie Marple Retts will give Stainer's "Crucifixion." At the Sunday morning service there will be an Easter sermon and special Easter music. As usual on that day a number of infants will be baptized. The music will include a harp solo by Margery Jean Bailey. At 5 o'clock there will be a big vesper service provided by the Glee club at the Bible Institute.

CONGREGATIONAL LADIES HAVE UNUSUAL PROGRAM

Ladies of the Home and Foreign missionary societies of the Congregational church had an entertaining and unusual program Thursday afternoon at which the fashions in women's dress in the different periods of United States history were shown. It was under the direction of Mrs. Schulte, and was well attended.

EXPERIENCE SOCIAL GIVEN BY METHODIST LADIES

The "experience social" given under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid society of the Central Avenue Methodist church Tuesday evening in which members presented dollars and told how they had earned them in rhyme, proved a very pleasant social affair which drew an excellent attendance. Mrs. Moore and Miss Emily Kopp sang Irish songs, games were played, and refreshments served.

PI BETA PHI SORORITY TO BE ENTERTAINED

The members of the Pi Beta Phi Sorority will be entertained at a 12 o'clock luncheon at the home of Mrs. W. A. Haines, at 212 West Lomita avenue, Saturday. All Pi Beta Phi's will be welcome.

MISS WORTHINGTON ENTERTAINS FRIENDS

Miss Ethel Worthington of 355 North Maryland, entertained Wednesday evening Miss Maurine Baker of Glendale, Walter Knippe and Don Jones of Los Angeles with a Mahjong party.

MISS MURIEL GAMBRILL IS HOSTESS TO FRIENDS

Miss Muriel Gambrill of 1717 Grand View avenue was hostess to a group of friends on Wednesday night. During the early part of the evening, a radio concert was enjoyed and later cards were played. First prize was awarded to Miss Louise Ayala and consolation prize to Miss Henrietta Holloway of Los Angeles. Decorations of carnations and ferns were used throughout the house. The guests included Miss Helen Isaac, Miss Mabel Evans, Miss Sue Crump, Miss Gertrude Killick, Miss Lucille Sparks and Miss Louise Ayala.

NEWS AND DEVELOPMENT OF EAGLE ROCK CITY AND VICINITY

NEW BOOKS AT EAGLE ROCK LIBRARY

Mrs. Gardiner Announces Arrival of Consignment of New Volumes

Mrs. Blancha Gardiner, Eagle Rock librarian, announces the arrival of the following new books: "Certain People of Importance," by Kathleen Norris. "Jezebel," by Richard Pryce. "J. Poindexter, Colored," Irvin S. Cobb's first long novel, and of a more instructive nature. "Helping Men Own Farms," by Elmwood Mead. "Certain People of Importance" presents a wonderful picture of this American life just as it has been lived for the quarter century that most of us can remember. But the elemental emotions and environments of this story are peculiar to no country and no race, and they are as human as the need for bread. Kathleen Norris has gathered all her strength and charm in a work that is a chronicle of real persons, all their littleness, selfishness, false ideals—and also their great loves, their passions and gentilities, their joys and griefs. The story is a cross-section of life. "Jezebel" is a convincing, fascinating exposition of what there is in a name. "Jezebel"—the name was "an assertion, a challenge, a blow in the face," and the lovely English girl heroine is a glorious, compelling character who finally redeems her name as she redeems the position of her family. "J. Poindexter, Colored," and Irvin S. Cobb himself needs no introduction to those who read the monthly magazines. Mr. Cobb's home town is Paducah, Kentucky, and he knows whereof he speaks. He knows the colored "pussies" thoroughly, and in this book he tells his own story in a peculiarly expressive language, freed from confusing dialect. "Helping Men Own Farms," by Elmwood Mead, is the result of worldwide investigations of the land problem by the professor of rural institutions in the University of California. Plans and illustrations add much to the value of the book which is practical at every point, interesting in every page and fired with the best sort of idealism. Some girls cultivate the art of putting because they think it looks cute.

CENTRAL SCHOOL DEVELOPS NEW STAR IN CLARK

The Glendale freshmen high school boys' track team defeated the Central school last night. It ran up a score of forty points against the Central team's fourteen. Bernie Clark of Central won the highest individual score from that school. Frank Martinez, Central star athlete, was unable to appear in the meet yesterday. He was taken ill early in the afternoon.

Glendale Advancement Folks Vote for Airport

The usual enthusiastic luncheon and business session of the Glendale Advancement Association was held at the Harriet Mae Tea Room Thursday noon. Dr. Stuart presiding by request, in the absence of C. W. Ingledue. Practically the only matters discussed were the proposition to purchase the airport by a bond issue to be voted upon at the coming election, which was unanimously endorsed by the association; and the character of the pavement it would be advisable to lay on Glendale avenue. Mr. Smith of the company which is selling the Wing Ranch subdivision was present and introduced Mr. McElroy of Phoenix, Ariz., representing a paving concern, who made a most interesting exposition of paving. Dr. Stuart reported a conversation had with the city engineer, who told him that within two weeks he would be ready to hear from property owners in regard to the pavement desired on Glendale avenue; that the Glendale-Montrose railroad would be responsible for the paving of the space between its tracks and two feet on either side, and that the estimates of probable expense are based on a six-inch concrete base with an asphaltum surface and thin sprinkling of crushed rock. The approximate cost of paving was estimated by the city engineer to be about $10 a running foot, which would make the cost of a 50-foot lot $500 approximately. There would be approximately 20,000 feet of paving, or 10,000 on each side, the width varying from 60 to 70 feet with the railroad occupying nine feet. Charles Stanley protested against the cost as too high and suggested a cheaper pavement near the curb. Peter Ferry recommended the more expensive pavement next the curb and the cheaper pavement in the center, down which the sewer trunk line would be laid. Mr. Stanley was urged to confer with the sewer committee, of which Dr. Stuart is chairman. Mr. Caldwell of the Guy M. Rush company was introduced and stated that the lots in the Glendale Sanitarium tract which he is handling are in good demand, the two corners on Broadway having been secured by wealthy capitalists for improvement with good buildings. H. H. Cotton of the Wright & Calendar company having reserved one, and Harry Leimert of the Bellehurst Tract company the other corner.

Venice Chamber of Commerce Directors Challenged

[By Associated Press] VENICE, Calif., March 23.—The directors of the Venice chamber of commerce are made the targets in the latest move of the epidemic of recall petitions breaking out in Venice. Petitions asking the recall of the present board are being circulated among members of the chamber. Those directors who do not regard it as a joke declare it is a move to cloud the issue created by the recent move of the chamber in requesting the Venice city trustees to resign in order to restore public confidence and to ward off the Los Angeles annexation movement.

Pasadena After G. A. R. Encampment

PASADENA, March 23.—Extending to national officers of the Grand Army of the Republic, who were guests in Pasadena an invitation to hold the national encampment in Pasadena in 1924 during the year of Pasadena's golden jubilee, Colonel W. J. Hogan today started a campaign which members of the G. A. R. will conduct to secure the gathering. Arrangements, it is stated, would be made to erect a model tent city in the Arroyo Seco, electrically lighted and with every modern convenience, so that the veterans would have every comfort and would be able to enjoy a real encampment, sleeping in tents and sitting about camp fires at night.

City Planning Commission Announces Zoning Map

[By Associated Press] VENICE, March 23.—The Venice city planning commission today announced that a tentative map for the zoning of the city will be ready for presentation at a meeting of citizens Thursday night.

RECIPROCITY DAY TRYOUTS FOR CLARENCE ON MARCH 28

Three Hundred Attend the Event and Hear Fine Numbers Opportunity for All Who Wish to Appear in the Coming Production

The Reciprocity day program of the Twentieth Century club, which took place yesterday, was acclaimed one of the finest ever presented. About three hundred persons were present it is estimated, as the auditorium which seats about that number, was filled to capacity.

Gertrude Ross, composer-pianist of world-wide recognition, introduced the program with an explanation of the folk songs of California. Eunice Landrum Brigham, the young pianist, pupil of the great Russians, Mirovich, and Dr. Alexis Kall, proved to those present that her day of greater fame is not far distant. Not only does she possess a brilliant technique, but she is also very young, and very attractive.

Elizabeth Elsham Chase, violinist, pleased with her artistic playing. She has been prominent in concert work in the middle west, and at present is a member of a trio in Long Beach.

Mr. Shugart, who was familiar to many people through his work over the radio, sang several of Mrs. Ross's songs in a manner that won him enthusiastic applause.

The blank verse poem of Blonda Banks Colborn, "Ode to Music," was well received. All the numbers were so much appreciated by those present that they called for encores.

The luncheon talk by Rev. E. P. Ryland was enlightening and uplifting. Rev. Ryland based his talk on "The Symphony," a poem by the great Sidney Lanier, poet, and friend of Rev. Ryland. He picked up the instruments of music, flute, oboe and violin, and explained what these each meant to the poet Lanier, who was a great musician, hampered all his life by poverty. Rev. Ryland then went on to talk of the higher life, the love of children, in the home, and their value to future generations.

The entire affair was exceptionally well arranged, and well executed, by eye witnesses, and was totally demolished when it brought up at the bottom of the canyon. Mrs. Swensen was thrown clear of the machine and also rolled down the hill, at the foot of which she was picked up in a dazed and semi-conscious condition but not seriously hurt.

Escapes Death in Auto Accident SANTA MONICA, March 23.—Miraculously escaping death or serious injury, Mrs. Johanna Swenson, 4517 Eighteenth street, Los Angeles, after little the worse for having driven her coupe over a 75-foot embankment on the Seventh street incline from Santa Monica Canyon yesterday afternoon. The automobile turned over at least three times, it is claimed osopher for everyone, as well as general man of all work, from tuning the piano to mending the bathroom plumbing and playing the saxophone. And the Wheelers expected Clarence to be a super-man—to know everything—because in their own words, "Well, Clarence, you know, you've been in the army!"

So, when the excitement of annexation is over, and the last vote is counted, then the new battle of the footlight aspirants is on at eight o'clock in the auditorium of the Central school on March 28.

CITY COUNCIL PASSES MANY ORDINANCES

Routine of Meeting Told in Brief for Hasty
Reading

The following ordinances were adopted:

An ordinance naming Glenview road.

An ordinance establishing commercial district—Harvard and Verdugo road.

An ordinance establishing a commercial district—sanitarium grounds.

The following resolutions were adopted:

A resolution ordering change of grade on Mariposa street.

A resolution of award of improvement of Doran street to Ducey and Brighten.

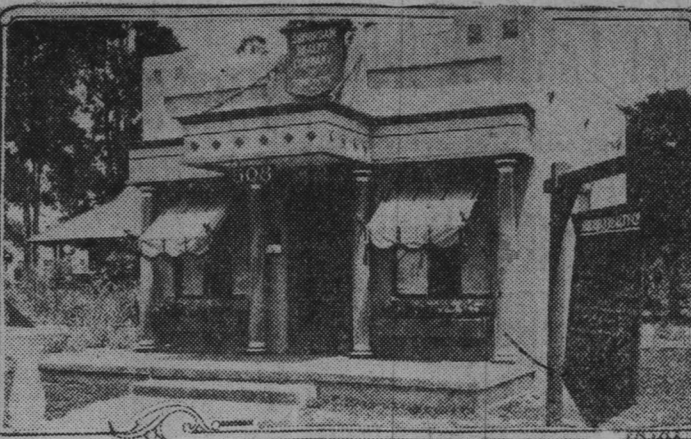

A resolution of award for the improvement of Fernando Court to W. J. Kern.

A resolution of intention for the improvement of Piedmont avenue and Lexington Drive.

Bids for the improvement of Mountain street were opened and referred to the city engineer for checking and report.

An invitation was received from the Foothill Improvement Association requesting the council to attend the formal opening of the

PRETTY SUN-DIAL LANDMARK OF OFFICE

The Suburban Realty company, that very attractive stucco realty office at 508 South Brand boulevard which has as its landmark an old-fashioned sun dial, is one of the busy places in Glendale. This office was established in May, 1922, and since that time over a quarter of a million dollars worth of realty deals have been consummated through its agency. These deals include the sale of subdivision lots, homes and business property. The Suburban Realty company has been particularly active in the sale of business property, especially on South Brand boulevard.

The inspiration for the motto of this realty firm, which is "Time to Buy," was taken from the sun dial, and from the large number of sales made this bit of advice has been heeded by a large number of people who have taken the motto to mean that the time to buy is when the shadow is cast on the dial. In other words, the time buy is NOW.

The personnel of the Suburban Realty company includes Alfred R. Johnson, president; H. J. Blackmore, vice-president and general manager; A. Roe Johnson, secretary-treasurer; J. Will Johnson, comptroller; and the following salesmen: Lee Etting, Norval Etting, Ed. S. Lawrence and E. B. Berry.

A recent subdivision which has been opened by this firm is Suburban Heights, in the northwest section of the city and facing Brand's estate, and includes approximately $100,000 worth of what is said to be part of the most valuable scenic homesites in Glendale.

new Grandview branch library on Monday evening, March 26. This was accepted.

A petition was received asking that a commercial district be established on the east side of North Pacific between Palm Drive and Stocker street. The necessary hearing was ordered given.

A letter from Weston E. Fuller, an engineer of New York, in which Mr. Fuller approves the findings of Engineer J. B. Lippincott as to the proposed costs of the proposed sewer system for Glendale, was read.

Map of Tract No. 6047 was approved with the proviso that owners of the tract be rounded.

Map of Tract No. 5937 was approved, with the understanding that the owner deed a portion of Lot A, when the other owner is willing to do likewise.

Map of Tract No. 6156 was approved.

In response to a resident of Alpha road Mayor Robinson stated that proceedings are under way to give the residents of that street city water service within a short time.

The matter of establishing a commercial district on Verdugo road from Opeche Way to Wabasco Way was laid on the table.

The city clerk was instructed to set the date of hearing for a commercial district on Sycamore road on April 5.

No protests were received on the vacating of Harvard and the next step in this work was ordered taken.

As there were no protests received against the changing of grade on Mariposa, the improvement of Maryland and the improvement of Ruberta, the next steps in this work were ordered taken.

A communication from Edward Lynch referring to the vacating of a certain street in Sparr Heights was placed on file.

Frank A. Lucas was granted a permit to operate a taxicab in Glendale.

A request for a permit from I. Cline to erect an apartment house at Park and Central was denied.

A protest against the establishment of the auto wrecking business on Broadway between Adams and Belmont streets was referred to the city manager for investigation and report.

The transfer of $10,000 from general fund to the park and recreation fund was authorized made

GLENDALÉ IS WELL REPRESENTED AT P-T. A. MEETING

Glendale was well represented at the first district conference of the California Congress of Mothers and P-T. A. held yesterday at the First Presbyterian church at Pomona. Those attending from here were Mrs. E. B. Moore, Mrs. W. W. Stofft, Mrs. H. V. Henry, Mrs. Ellis, Mrs. Senior, Mrs. E. B. Wyman, Mrs. Mae Rosenberg, Mrs. Tatlow, Mrs. Hill, Mrs. W. Q. Widows, Mrs. L. T. Rowley, Mrs. A. H. Brown, Mrs. Pierson Hanning, and Mrs. W. M. Brown.

There was a presidents' council at 10 o'clock. It was announced that the district conference would be held in Los Angeles at the Walker theater building on April 26 and 27. The state conference will be held at Stockton, May 8 to 11.

Mrs. Turner, publicity chairman for the district, is anxious that all publicity chairmen send in newspaper clippings. Mrs. Coleman of Covina, represented the first district at the conference recently held in Oakland in regard to the governor's budget, and gave a detailed account of that meeting. Rev. Freeman was also a speaker and led in prayer.

"Child Hygiene" was the subject of a talk given by Miss Bessie Wickers, school nurse of Alhambra. After luncheon a round table discussion on various topics of interest to P-T. A. was taken up. Dr. Raymond Brooks of Pomona College was one of the speakers of the afternoon, his topic being "Spiritual Education." Mr. Glenn of Los Angeles spoke on "Recreation." The remainder of the afternoon session consisted of community singing and a musical program.

RENO, Nev., March 23.—The winter range is in good condition for grazing and cattle, sheep and horses are in generally good condition. There has been only a small loss of cattle during the winter.

subject to the approval of the city attorney.

A petition from residents of Tract No. 5962 asking that the streets of that tract be improved, was received and was referred to the city engineer for checking and report.

The bid of W. J. Kern for the improvement of Fernando Court was accepted.

MISS LITCH TO BE CONGREGATIONAL ORGANIST

Miss Lilla Litch, of the Emerson school of self-expression, has just been advised that she has been chosen as organist of the splendid instrument that is being installed in the new Congregational church, which will be ready for use in about two weeks.

Miss Litch has won some distinction in musical circles since she became a resident of Glendale and is happy to get back to work she greatly enjoys. She took her training in the organ at the Cushing Academy in Ashburnham, New Hampshire, continuing her study in Pittsburgh and Boston. After coming to this coast she studied under Ernest Douglas of Los Angeles.

For a long period before coming to Los Angeles she held a position as organist in Gardner, Mass. Last summer she substituted for Mr. Douglas for two months at Pro Cathedral in Los Angeles.

It is a pleasure to her to have such a fine instrument entrusted to her and the congregation is looking forward eagerly to its entry into the services of the church.

If Ruptured Try This Free

Apply it to Any Rupture, Old or Recent, Large or Small and You Are on the Road That Has Convinced Thousands

Sent Free to Prove This

Anyone ruptured, man, woman or child, should write at once to W. S. Rice, 555B Main St., Adams, N. Y., for a free trial of his wonderful stimulating application. Just put it on the rupture and the muscles begin to tighten; they begin to bind together and the opening closes naturally and the need of a support or truss or appliance is then done away with. Don't neglect to send for this free trial. Even if your rupture doesn't bother you what is the use of wearing supports all your life? Why suffer this nuisance? Why run the risk of gangrene and such dangers from a small and innocent little rupture, the kind that has thrown thousands on the operating table? A host of men and women are daily running such risk just because their ruptures do not hurt nor prevent them from getting around. Write at once for this free trial, as it is certainly a wonderful thing and has aided in the cure of ruptures that were as big as a man's two fists. Try and write at once, using the coupon below.

NEWS AND VIEWS OF BURBANK AND ITS ENVIRONS

MAYOR CRAWFORD SPEAKS
AT JOHN MUIR SCHOOL ON APPRECIATION OF MUSIC

Easter Program Is Given at Junior High Auditorium Thursday Afternoon; Music Memory Contest Is Explained

Assembly at the John Muir Junior high school aroused great interest among Burbank children. Mayor J. C. Crawford, Superintendent L. F. Collins, Rev. E. A. Main, Principal Thomas and the children presented a holiday program, Principal Thomas presiding.

Mayor J. C. Crawford told the boys of his pleasure in meeting them, his enjoyment in their correct salute to the flag, and their Burbank Creed which they had adopted. The theme of his address concerned the value of appreciation of good music. He gave instances of the ennobling effect of good music.

Upon people and told of the Music Memory contest which the Burbank Daily Press is to start April 2.

Praising the Press for putting on such a contest which would arouse interest, he told of the value of knowing good music. Besides the pleasure in the prizes he hoped that the children would take pleasure in the study and the learning of the selections from the music masters of the ages.

In relating of the influence of ennobling music upon people he told of visiting a penitentiary in the east in company with a group of educators. In one of the bare walled cells a man was playing beautiful music. This was spoken about and the warden said he was the model prisoner. After he had been playing his violin, a marked improvement could be seen in the action of the other prisoners.

The selections which have lived through the ages were inspired by the deepest emotions, he said, recalling how Verdi wrote Misere from Il Trovatore as an outpouring of the deepest grief, caused by the death of a friend.

The program began with the stirring singing of The Star Spangled Banner, which was followed by a salute to the flag.

Miss Dora McDonald told of the meaning of Palm Sunday. The Girls' chorus then sang of the Palm ride. Rev. E. A. Main, pastor of the Baptist church gave a short talk on Easter and the laws of growth.

"There are three things which Easter always brings to children. First, eggs are one of things connected with Easter. Why? Because they are the symbol of life. The children enjoyed the story which he told in connection with the mention of eggs and chicken. "Ah sure does like chicken," said Mirandy, "kase they taste good before they's bawn and after they's daid."

Rev. Main then said that flowers, and the lily especially, was another symbol of Easter, all these things were thought of because they spoke of Christ and the resurrection.

The laws of growth and the laws of death formed the subject for his theme. The Burbank Creed was recited by the children. It is as follows: "We will never bring disgrace on

Ferocious German Police Dog Attacks Meyer Wilkline

In a frantic fight with a ferocious German police dog, Meyer Wilkline, 12-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Wilkline of the Santa Rosa hotel, narrowly escaped serious injury on San Fernando boulevard on his way to school at 9 o'clock yesterday morning. The dog landed upon the child with a terrific impact and knocked him into the street, where it made an attempt to pierce the boy's jugular vein. The boy's presence of mind in putting his arm over his throat, and hitting the dog with his fist probably saved him from fatal injury.

He was rushed to the office of Dr. Pomeroy and given first aid treatment. According to latest reports, he is rapidly recovering from the shock. An examination proved that the dog did not have rabies.

This, our city, by any act of dishonesty or cowardice.

"We will fight for the ideals and the sacred things of the city, both alone and with many. "We will revere and obey the city's laws, and we will do our best to incite like reverence and respect in those above us who are prone to annul them or set them at naught. We will strive unceasingly to quicken the public's sense of civic duty.

Thus, in all these ways, we will transmit this city, not only to us, but greater, better and more beautiful than it was transmitted to us."

—Oath of the Youth of Athens. The Yates Wonder Players' company from Los Angeles was present and played "O Sole Mio," one of the selections on the list.

SAN JOSE, Calif., March 23.—Local canneries have started packing spinach, the season for which will run about six weeks.

New Music Memory
Selections Added to the List Given

Five selections in the Music Memory contest to be added to the list of forty-five printed in the Press this week are: Misere—Trovatore—Verdi Scarf Dance—Chaminade Nutcracker Suite—Tchaikowsky. Lass With the Delicate Air—Arne. Moonlight Sonata—Beethoven.

HAVE CHARGE OF
BIBLE LESSON

Will Conduct the Men's Bible Class at Methodist Church

W. F. Hollimon will have charge of the lesson Sunday morning at the Men's Bible class in the Methodist church. The lesson will begin at 9:30 o'clock. Visitors are invited. Because it is the week before Easter a special program has been arranged, and it is desired to have a large attendance. Even though you can not come at other times during the year, you are urged to be present Sunday.

BEULAH SHOPPE TO HAVE SALE

A most remarkable pre-Easter sale of millinery is being staged by the Beulah Shoppe, 237 San Fernando boulevard. Prices during this sale have been cut to a minimum, according to the manager. The sale will close Saturday and after that date prices will go up.

MEET TO TALK OF
ADVERTISING

Burbank Citizens Will Put On Publicity Campaign

The meeting of the committee to consider the advertising of Burbank was attended by every member of the committee, Thursday noon, at the Good Fellows' Social club room. The Chamber of Commerce, represented by Morris Spazier, E. J. Jackson and Mr. Coffman, the Realty Board by Mr. Povel, A. C. Gage and Mr. Ashbrenner, Mayor J. C. Crawford from the Rotarians, Mr. Sinclair from the Kiwanis club.

A general plan with each one giving an idea as to the advertising of Burbank was suggested. The matter of deciding and adopting a set plan and the budget for carrying it out was to be decided upon at the adjourned meeting to be held at 7 o'clock at the City Hall.

LA CRESCENTA
NEWS AND NOTES

A group of members of the local P. T. A.'s, including Mmes. F. K. Czerniski, C. Rinhard, G. Weaver, B. Enockson, C. W. Angier, O. C. Miller, S. B. Young and C. Hanson, motored to Pomona yesterday for the district conference. They report a splendid meeting and a wonderful time.

One of the delightful affairs of the early week was the celebration of Mrs. M. S. Collins' birthday anniversary last Monday evening at her home on East Prospect avenue. The affair was a complete surprise to Mrs. Collins, all arrangements having been made by her daughter, Mrs. P. B. Watkins. Sixteen guests were bidden.

Meeting Held by Publicity Division of Chamber of Commerce

A meeting to discuss a systematic plan of advertising Burbank and a discussion of ways and means of raising funds for this purpose was held by the publicity division of the chamber of commerce at the city hall last night.

Numerous plans for telling the world about Burbank were discussed, among them a plan for advertising in eastern farm journals but upon the suggestion of Mr. Spazier this plan was discarded. It was virtually decided that all funds received for advertising would be spent for half page advertisements in a Los Angeles newspaper and the printing of pamphlets.

A letter from the All Year Club of Southern California asking for an appropriation of five per cent of the advertising fund of the Burbank Chamber of Commerce was read by Secretary Colburn. Their request was given favorable consideration.

One of the first acts of the meeting was to elect Mr. Spazier, president; Postmaster Coffman, secretary, and Mayor Crawford, treasurer.

Miss Lorene Czerniski leaves tomorrow for Bakersfield where she will be the house guest of a class mate for the week-end.

Misses Sara and Jessie Conlin left today for a week's stay at their ranch at Palma, California.

Band Will Make Its First Appearance April 30 In Burbank Daily Press Music Memory Contest Concert Series

Can you play a saxophone, a trombone, a cornet, a drum, or what have you?

Lovers of music in Burbank are planning to have a Community band to give open air concerts on Saturday evenings and Sunday afternoons. With the warm spring breezes blowing memories of the cooling magic of band music floating on the air as the moonlight flickers through the gently swaying fairy-like branches of the pepper trees, players are wishing for band music.

"There are enough good players in town who would enjoy work under a good director," said several of the players. "We all want such an organization but time slips by, so that unless some one in Burbank will set a time and place for an organization meeting the hot weather will be upon us and there will be no music to make us forget it," complained another band player.

If you can play any instrument which will give forth a melodious sound, see Homer Davis at the city hall Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock. If for any reason you cannot be there at that time but want to be in the band, give him your name at any time before then.

Mr. Davis says that for the first open air concert, the Burbank band will give a concert on Monday, April 30, from five to six o'clock for the school children of Burbank and for their friends. They will play six selections from the Burbank Daily Press Music Memory contest and it is expected that a soloist, either instrumental or vocal, will give a group of numbers. The players' program will be: Barcarolle, Tales of Hoffman (Offenbach); Blue Danube Waltzes (Strauss); Melody in F (Rubinstein); Cextette, Lucia (Donizetti); Stars and Stripes Forever (Sousa).

RENO, Nev., March 23.—Since its organization in 1917, the state highway department has expended $5,306,000 on roads in Nevada.

ALBANIA SHUNS TURKEY, TURNING WESTWARD

TIRANA, Albania, March 23.—

Little Albania, with her narrow strip of mountainous territory and her scant one million people, rebels against paying any of the debt of Turkey for the reason that the former Ottoman Empire, after collecting its tribute here, never so much as built a bridge, constructed a road, or erected a school, according to members of the newly constituted Albanian parliament, which has been meeting in laborious sittings since the New Year.

The sum assigned to Albania for payment was 750,000 gold francs, or about $150,000, but this sum, the deputies say, would make a very serious drain on the public finances.

Albania is still the wild and undeveloped country she has always been—without a mile of railroad, almost impassable roads and but one or two schools at most. The government, constituted on the order of a republic, is bending every effort to collect sufficient revenue to meet the annual expenditures, figured at 18,000,000 gold francs, or about $3,600,000, which represents but a fraction of what the United States government spends in a single day.

Though there is a great deal of Turkish influence left in this small and primitive country, the present tendency is to throw off all of the Ottoman bonds and lean toward Western civilization. Instead of sending their sons to Constantinople for their professional training, the well-to-do now send them to Paris, London and Rome. Even in dress the tendency is to turn to the West for leadership.

The toy capital, located here, is now putting on the airs of its mission by the establishment of legations and consulates. Both England and America maintain legations here, while Italy is represented by a consulate.

L. E. CO. TO DECORATE THE EXPOSITION

That the Glendale Industrial Exposition will not be lacking in atmosphere is apparent in the closing of a contract with L. E. Co., decorators, whose unique street decorations for the opening of Grauman's Metropolitan created such favorable comment.

The L. E. Co. gives assurance that the streets and tents will riot in color of harmonious shades designed to blend themselves to the general plan of variegated displays.

The merchants, judging from contracts for service received by the L. E. Co., are exhibiting a most progressive spirit and one that assures results for the exposition that will prove of lasting benefit to our community.

A Scotsman was spending his honeymoon by the sea, where an airplane took passengers up for 25 a flight. McWhistle thought this was far too much, but made the aviator a sporting offer of 5 shillings each for himself and his bride. The aviator seeing a chance for some easy money accepted, on condition that McWhistle was to pay 25 extra for every word he spoke during the flight.

Duly they set out. The pilot nosed, looped the loop, and did everything he could to scare the Scotsman, but it was no good. McWhistle was as silent as the grave.

When they came down, the flying man remarked: "Well, I think you did remarkably well not to speak all the while we were up."

"Aye," said McWhistle. "But I nearly did when the wife fell 'oot!"

OBSERVATIONS

BY A GLENDALE OLD TIMER

One of the most interesting departments of the editorial page of the Daily Press is Henry James' "Comments on the Day's News." Mr. James is a keen analyst and his satires on every-day fads and the law's varied inconsistencies are novel and refreshing. When commenting on the various evasions and violations of existing laws, notably those concerning prohibition and traffic conditions, he hits straight from the shoulder. I am sure every reader of his comments will find pleasure and profit therein.

February, 1866, is said to be the only month without a full moon since the calendar was invented. In the year named the full moon went out late on January 31 and the new one came in early on March 1. January had one full moon, February none and March two.

While the statement that the denuding of the country's great watersheds of their forests has caused great and oft-recurring floods is undoubtedly true, yet it is also true that the three greatest floods in the history of our nation occurred before the forests had been cut to any appreciable extent. In February, 1779, when the intrepid Col. George Rogers Clark, that gifted young hero and born conqueror, made his famous march, in command of 178 brave borderers, across the state of Illinois, from old Kaskaskia, near the Mississippi river, to Vincennes, Indiana, on the banks of the Wabash, the little party waded or swam the greater part of the way, about 160 miles. The Kaskaskia, Little Wabash and Ambraw rivers were many miles wide, though now mere rivulets in midsummer, and when they finally reached the Wabash it was an inland sea. The next great flood was in 1817, and it surpassed even that of 1779. I had the rare good fortune of hearing from the lips of an eye-witness, stories of this great spreading out of the waters. When I knew her she was a woman of four-score years. In the days of this great adventure she was a laughing, teasing girl of 17, sturdy and strong, and dressed in homespun. She was one of a party who landed from a flatboat in the spring of 1817, at a point a mile further from the channel than the river has ever reached since, except once. She was a sister of the man who founded the little Illinois city which was my home for over 31 years, Col. Wm. B. Archer. By the way, he once owned several hundred acres of land that is now in the very heart of Chicago. Archer avenue, which traverses this tract from one end to the other, was named for him. The third of the great floods referred to was in 1844, and there are persons living today who can tell you about it. The Mississippi, the Ohio, the Wabash, the Missouri, the Arkansas and, in fact, all of the streams of the great central valley, were mighty torrents and widespread destruction was wrought. Such a flood today would destroy hundreds of lives and untold millions of property.

Hearing the word "lycopodium" used the other day brought to my mind memories of the campaign of 1888, when Benjamin Harrison, grandson of Gen. Wm. Henry Harrison, hero of the battle of Tippecanoe, who died ere he had served one month as president, contested with Grover Cleveland, the "man of destiny," for the highest honor in the gift of the American people. That was the year of torchlight processions by uniformed campaign clubs, and it was an awe-inspiring sight when a band of lusty young men, in handsome trappings and each bearing a torch elevated aloft on a long hand, marched, with stately tread, along the village or city street. They were the cynosure of all eyes and many a maiden's heart fluttered as her "man" came into view. Suddenly each marcher put his lips to the handle of his torch and blew until his cheeks puffed out. Instantly there was a burst of flame from each torch and pillars of fire towered six feet above the marcher's head. At regular intervals this mystic performance was repeated, and in a lengthy parade such as was frequently held in the large cities, there was hardly a moment when there was not a burst of flame from some part of the marching line. Do you remember it, old-timers? How was it done? It was easy. Each torch had two compartments; the one above holding the oil which fed its wick, and the lower one filled with lycopodium, a highly inflammable white powder. The oil cup was simply suspended within this lower chamber and around the wick holder were many perforations. When the breath was blown hard into the handle it was forced up a hollow tube into the lycopodium chamber and the fine powder sprinkled on the flame through the perforations. The igniting powder caused the pillar of flame. What heroes the young fellows felt themselves to be when they sent those towering jets of fire into the air as they marched along. It was indeed a beautiful sight on a real dark night, for the marchers were so trained that they acted in unison and the flames shot up in perfect rhythm. The torches were made in several designs, a popular one being in the shape of a stove-pipe hat. It was called "Grandfather's hat" and originated from a cartoon in a Democratic paper ridiculing the Republicans for trying to boost Harrison into the presidency simply because he was the grandson of his grandfather. In other words, he was trying to step into Grandfather's shoes and wear Grandfather's hat. The Republicans promptly accepted the challenge and flooded the country with grandfather emblems, the torch among them. You all know the result of that strenuous campaign. Harrison won out, but four years later Cleveland staged the only presidential "comeback" in history and defeated the man who had walloped him in '88. And Grover Cleveland was some man, let me tell you. He had the courage of his convictions and he insisted upon his righteous policies even against the bitter opposition of personal and political friends. He strongly opposed the Wilson tariff bill and pronounced it a bill of perfidy and dishonor, betraying the principles of the Democratic party. He made many bitter enemies in his own party, and in the speech nominating him in 1892 Gen. Bragg of the "Iron Brigade" created a stampede when he dramatically shouted, "We love him for the enemies he has made." Grover Cleveland's high principles and rugged virtues were never fully appreciated until after his death. He it was who originated the expression, "innocuous desuetude," and the statement, "It is a condition and not a theory that counts us." In his first campaign for the presidency a scandal in his early life was hinted at, and when his managers insisted on a denial or some kind of a whitewashing of the affair he said, "Tell the truth." And the truth showed that he was blameless. I believe, but will not positively affirm, that he was the only president to wed for the first time while in office. Wilson, as all know, took a second wife while in office. Cleveland married a young girl, Miss Frances Folsom, who was his ward—a noble young woman, beautiful in face and form, tall and stately. She made him a loving wife and brought him two lovely daughters. Cleveland's early home was Buffalo, New York, and there he was elected sheriff, then mayor. In 1886 he

McGRAW WANTS TO SET NEW RECORD

By HENRY L. FARRELL,
United Press Sports Editor.

NEW YORK, March 23.—With a nice country home, a comfortable fortune and everything that a man should want when he reaches the age for retirement, John McGraw continues the arduous duties of handling a champion ball club.

The "little Napoleon" of the diamond must be tired of sleeping cars, fed up on hotel food and hardened to the thrills and romances of the game. Twenty-five years of stiff going is an exacting game where it takes youth to hold out and ought to make a veteran of a man in heart and bone.

McGraw must have some reason for sticking at a grind that must be tiresome most of the time. He must have some ambition beyond the mere making of dollars.

He must be inspired by some great desire and from the change in his policies, it may be that "Mac" wants to have the name of McGraw perpetuated for all times and have himself recorded as the greatest of all baseball managers.

McGraw used to buy, but he is building now. He used to be one with the attitude that today is the day and let tomorrow take care of itself. Now he is working both ends.

With just a few exceptions, the great Giant ball club which McGraw will start as a favorite in the 1923 pennant race came "ready-to-wear" off the market. It stands a great ball club this year and it is not at the cracking point, although the veterans outnumber the youngsters in the regular line-up.

McGraw apparently is working on the theory that his infield, the great combination that made the Yanks look sick in the last world's series, hasn't long to go and he is grooming another combination to step up when Groh, Bancroft and Kelly have to step down.

No other ball club has in the makings an infield to compare with McPhee, Princeton third baseman; Jackson, Little Rock shortstop; Fred Maguire, Holy Cross second baseman, and Jimmy O'Connell, St. Mary's first baseman, who is also a $75,000 outfielder.

With three or four major league clubs, that infield would be regular workers, but McGraw doesn't need them right now and all the time, with the strict personal direction that McGraw carries out, they will be learning as they sit on the bench.

carried New York for governor, beating Folger, Republican, by 192,000, an unheard-of majority up to that time. As governor he would not be dictated to by his party managers, but followed his conscience in all things. As president he always did the same.

Did you read the story a day or two ago of the killing of two hold-up bandits by a saloonkeeper (get the word) in Granite City, Illinois? The bandits had lined up patrons and bartenders and were proceeding to rob them when the saloonkeeper shot and killed them. A hero, was he? No, but a worse criminal by far than the men he killed. They were trying to steal money—only, but he was, day by day, robbing his patrons of their money, their manhood and their sense of allegiance to the laws. He was a traitor to state and nation. He not only robbed his patrons but gave them in exchange for the money that which degraded them and deprived their families of food, clothing and self-respect. But why does the great state of Illinois allow this monstrous iniquity and others of its ilk to ply their tradeable and damnable traffic? Are its officials asleep, indifferent or bribed? The country wants to know.

Forty-one years ago I received a Christmas present in the shape of a "Mark Twain" scrap-book, an entirely new design which it has claimed the famous humorist, then a young man, had invented. It had gummed spaces one-half inch deep and the same distance apart, in columns newspaper width, two to the page. Simply passing a sponge over the columns prepared them to receive the clipping, that was to be preserved. This design has been little if any improved on in all the years since then.

In the 1872 campaign for the presidency Gen. Grant and W. H. Seymour were opposing candidates. The latter had been governor of New York and was a decided success, and was declared by Grant the hero of the Civil War, which ended only seven years previously. The school children were fierce partisans in those days and a favorite cry of those who had Republican parents was, "Hurrah for Seymour and Blair and a rope to hang 'em by the hair." In 1876, when Samuel J. Tilden, the Democratic candidate, was declared by many to have won, the children were more intensely partisan than in any other that I remember, either before or since. Many a fist fight resulted from the animated discussions of school boys over what they considered were issues of the campaign.

The motor-bus driver looked at the speck of an airplane overhead and said to the conductor: "I wouldn't fly in one of those things, not if you paid me. Think of the accidents."

"But we have accidents, don't we?" said the conductor. "Traffic, fog, and fools on the road see to that."

"Oh, I dunno," replied the driver, thoughtfully. "Say you do have a smash-up on a 'bus; well, there you are! But if you have an accident on an airplane, where are you?"

He knows not the value of floggers who never botany.

IF SKIN BREAKS OUT AND ITCHES APPLY SULPHUR

Just the moment you apply Mentho-Sulphur to an itching, burning or broken out skin, the itching stops and healing begins, says a noted skin specialist. This sulphur preparation, made into a pleasant cold cream, gives such a quick relief, even to fiery eczema, that nothing has ever been found to take its place.

Because of its germ-destroying properties, it quickly subdues the itching, cools the irritation and heals the eczema right up, leaving a clear, smooth skin in place of ugly eruptions, rash, pimples or roughness.

You do not have to wait for improvement. It quickly shows. You can get a little jar of Rowles Mentho-Sulphur at any drug store.—Advertisement.

THE KETTLE THAT NEVER BOILS DRY

An entire meal is cooked at one time in this cooker, over a fire equal to the heat of a candle. The fuel saved by this cooker, and the elimination of burning of food, with the consequent saving of food value, will more than pay the cost of this cooker, in addition to the time saved watching and caring for the food while cooking.

Once having put this cooker to boil, there is no further care till the meal is ready to serve. Demonstrations will be held from 10 a. m. to 12 m., and from 2 to 4 p. m.

FRIDAY AND SATURDAY, MARCH 23 AND 24

A luncheon will be served immediately after demonstration.

HATED BY EUROPE

Frequent allusion is made by publications in this country to the hatred and contempt of Europe for the United States. There is not the slightest proof that this view is based on fact. It comes, as a rule, from some source not entitled to respect either here or overseas. It is a favored theme of the Hearst papers. It is accepted by them because they conceive themselves to be representative of the United States. They do excite hatred and contempt, and when the condemnation they have earned is visited upon them, they seek to let the odium rest upon the millions of Americans who entertain no thought in common with them. It is not a very shrewd game. Anybody sufficiently mature to read a newspaper can see through so plain a pretense.

During the war the papers in question supported the cause of Germany. It was quite natural that the course should have aroused resentment. They were especially despised by the British. They have gained nothing by adopting Lloyd George to be a petted hero. But between England, this country's biggest debtor, and the United States, there is a complete understanding, wholly amicable. The central powers of Europe continue to look askance at the western nation that helped put them down when they sallied forth to conquer the continents. This is not a serious matter, certainly quite devoid of the element of surprise. The soviet regime of Russia withholds its love, a blow easily survived; but millions of Russians, destined still to form a free people, look to this country, whose bread they have eaten, as a friend and savior.

The fact that Americans are now in Rome attending a great international industrial conference, the warmth of their welcome considered, is more important than all the gossip of fevered correspondents about the hatred and contempt for America they seem to regard as the chief emotions of Europe.

INQUIRING ABOUT MEXICO

The Woman's City club of Los Angeles proposes to ask Secretary Hughes why recognition is withheld from Mexico. The quest is for information. The members of the organization do not aver that Mexico should be recognized. They merely desire, as American citizens, to learn what the reason is for putting a neighboring power into the class of the unfit. If a good reason exists, and the secretary should have the goodness to explain what it is, there the matter probably would rest so far as the club is concerned.

There can be no doubt that the chances of Mexico for recognition have been injured by some of the advocates who clamored that it be recognized. They injured the chances because they never had been known to uphold any cause for other than selfish purposes. That they appeared on behalf of Mexico, and were noisy and officious, had the effect of bringing Obregon's administration under suspicion. Judged by other circumstances than the unfortunate friendship mentioned, the administration aims at attainment of a high degree of efficiency, and the maintenance of justice. Attention is being given to education and to systematic industry. Big schemes for material betterment are in progress. Order is being preserved throughout the country at least as well as it is preserved in countries posing as morally superior.

It is not to be wondered at that the women have a proper curiosity on the subject. To be in physical contact with a populous republic, and yet to decline to admit that the government there has official existence, is an anomalous situation, continued now for so long that others than the alert club women would be glad to know what it all is about.

OUTLAWRY OF THE HIGHWAY

Recently a citizen of Los Angeles was driving in the suburbs of Alhambra. He was a careful and experienced driver, and moreover had a new, expensive car. Beside him sat his son. In the seat behind were two men. An instant later, the machine was a wreck, the son fatally injured, one of the rear seat passengers and the driver, bruised, bleeding and unconscious. The fourth man was hurt, but less severely than the others.

According to the story of survivors, the machine had overtaken a heavy truck, that was going at rather high speed for such a vehicle. The driver of the lighter machine was about to give the signal of intention to pass. Just then, without warning of any kind, the truck turned to the left. There was not a shadow of chance for escape. The automobile plunged into the side of the truck, and the occupants were buried under the resulting fragments.

The question for consideration is the proper treatment of the truck driver. He need not here be considered as an individual, but as a type. There is no doubt that he is a menace. Perhaps he does not have murder in his heart, but there is absence of all concern as to whether his carelessness shall find victims, or the victims live or die. He may not be willing to kill, but he declines to exercise care that he may not kill. It seems odd, if such a driver, a pest and a peril, cannot be eliminated from the highways. A term in prison, a heavy fine, and an order never to drive, might help somewhat the process of abatement.

THE COMMON THOUGHT

The common thought of civilization is that the world must have peace. War more and more is being considered a folly and a crime.

It is in consonance with this trend that certain people in southern California have organized to express their belief that the United States should enter the League of Nations.

Senator Borah, who fought the league idea with bitterness, says now that he believes there should be a world court. In saying this he is advocating exactly the principles fundamental to the plan he helped to defeat.

In some respects the people of the nations have been educated beyond the diplomacy that still is in vogue between nations. They have learned to resent the theory that war is necessary. They would have force exerted only as the police of a city strive to exert it for the restraint of the law-breaker. The power that insists upon resort to arms deserves to have arrayed against it all the other powers. So overwhelming an opposition would preserve peace. Then, whatever the question at issue, it should be submitted to an international tribunal. If large enough a question to have incited to armed hostilities, it must be large enough to be of international importance and concern.

Considering the present perturbed conditions of Europe, there is no apparent likelihood that an all-embracing compact could be devised quickly. The best to be hoped for must be a beginning, an enunciation of the principles, and a showing that the project is feasible. It is this idea that is stirring the minds of millions.

TERMS OF MEDIATION

There has been considerable idle chatter by correspondents concerning American mediation in the Ruhr. Apparently the correspondents in sending this are using the opportunity to express their own opinions as to the parties at interest in the invaded section. One of these individuals has sent what purports to be the terms on which France would accept the United States as mediator. Evidently they are made out of the chap's own head. They are such as could have been framed only to indicate the refusal of France to tolerate intervention.

First among the terms mentioned is the voluntary renunciation of war debts. This is a matter that could not be construed as having anything to do with the case. The fact that France is failing to get what it thinks it should have from Germany, may delay the payment of the French debt to America. It has no effect upon the legal or moral aspects of the obligation. These remain precisely as before.

As to the other terms, they are not worth mentioning, because the character of the initial term precludes consideration of any coming after. The prospects are that there will be no intervention, and that France and Germany ultimately will come to such arrangement as may be devised by themselves. They are not progressing very rapidly, but conditions are such as could not long endure, and a climax is inevitable.

The Golden Philosophy

By ESTELLE LAWTON LINDSEY

"This also will pass." The Golden Philosopher said that to me and laughed. She is a busy professional woman, this golden philosopher and she reminds me of sunshine. Her hair is shot with glints of ruddy gold and her laughing eyes are flecked with tiny amber lights. Even her skin suggests the precious metal for it is smooth and a delicate cream verging toward the mellow tone of a ripening peach.

For years I've known the golden philosopher, and all the years she has laughed and worked and so one morning recently I asked:

"Don't you ever worry? Are you never unhappy?" She flashed at me one of her brilliant smiles and answered:

"No, I don't think I am ever unhappy, which is not to be interpreted as meaning that I have escaped my share of trouble and misfortune. It's my philosophy that keeps me smiling and that is summed up in a sentence, the same that kept the Belgians going during the war. 'This also will pass.'"

"And it will. No hurt is going to last forever. Every sorrow, every pain, every agony rises to a climax and then steadily dies down and goes out of your experience. Happiness is in recognizing the temporary quality of every misfortune. When things hurt me I hug my philosophy and let them take their natural course. Like waves they sweep up, over and down."

"If people would just make a daily list of their sorrows and put the list away for, say five years. Then take it out and look it over they would be amazed to discover how many of the things they thought tragic have passed from memory. Why, the other day I was trying to count up the men who had closely touched my life. I counted them over with a friend and we canvassed the list half a dozen times. Suddenly she cried:

"Why, you've left out your husband—you know he was not a success as a husband. Many women might have made him into a tragedy; but I'd actually forgotten him, which shows how easily all the sorrow that came with him went out with his going."

"It's a great philosophy and it would save the world from 'marvels of sorrow' if generally adopted."

"No matter what it is, remember 'This also will pass.'"

THE RIGHT WORD

By W. CURTIS NICHOLSON

"WILL I SEE YOU WEDNESDAY?" (Find the error in this article)

"Will I see you Wednesday?" "You're wrong. You should have said, 'Shall I see you Wednesday?'"

"How do you make that out?" "Simply that you should not use will with I when you are asking a question."

"Never?" "Never."

"Can I use it with we?" "No! Never use will with either I or we when you ask a question. Never ask, 'Will I do it?'"

"I see. I must always express myself as follows: 'Shall I help you?' or, 'Shall we go?'"

"Right." "Thank you for the information. Now, shall I see you on Wednesday?"

"You shall."

The Error

Can I use it with we? Right: May I use it with we? Vocabulary

A cogent argument is one that appeals strongly to the reason or conscience. It usually compels belief, assent or action. A cogent argument is a forcible or convincing argument. The adverb is cogently; the noun is cogency. The opposite of cogent is faint; feeble; ineffectual; powerless.

THE LISTENING POST

By JAMES W. FOLEY

Value is determined by human need. There is a secondary determination, of course, in human appetite and human vanity.

Thus the unusually high value sometimes placed on diamonds, rubies, silks, laces, furs, moving picture stars and what the vulgar term "hooch."

This, of course, is largely a fictitious value.

But real values depend upon the ordinary and wholesome needs of human society.

And how limited is the supply to meet that need.

Sand has no special value as it lies along the sea shore.

Too much of it. Anybody can get it.

And stone has no special value where there are mountains of it.

The value does not lie in the stone as much as it lies in the labor getting it.

But if there were only one small sand pit near a community and that community needed sand for building purposes, then sand would take on at once an unusual value, as compared with the sands of the sea.

Because the supply would be limited.

And the man with the sand pit might grow wealthy dispensing sand.

Where a man at the seashore with sand blowing all over his place might starve to death, so far as sand values were concerned.

Water is plentiful. In most places.

The Mississippi river sometimes runs twenty-five to thirty miles wide in times of flood.

And when the flood waters begin caving farms into the stream, water becomes an embarrassment rather than an asset.

But if there were a desert through which men must pass and there were only one spring and one man owned it, he might earn a fortune selling water by the canteen full.

If there were only ten grains of corn in the world, their value would be high.

Because the demand for it for seed would be great.

Without it the world might be deprived of one of its greatest products.

Of infinitely more worth than the gold of the world.

So human need and the supply of that which supplies human need determines value.

Sand may be worth only a cent a hundred weight at the seashore.

Away off somewhere where the supply is limited its value may be multiplied a thousand fold.

Wood may be worth little in the forest.

In the frigid zone its value might at times be incalculable.

Because people need it to keep from freezing.

And it is much so with men.

Their value depends upon human need and the manner in which they supply it.

The square man, the busy man, the man with purpose and ideals is much needed by the world.

So his value is large.

Who can estimate the value of a Lincoln? Of an Edison?

Or a Bell or a Tesla or a Marconi?

It is yours to be of great human value.

If you apply yourself to filling human need.

If you prove of human worth.

If you help with building and refreshment and encouragement and all the things the human family has so much need of.

Songs of the Poets

"She Was Young"—By Harold Monro

She was young and blithe and fair,
Firm of purpose, sweet and strong;
Perfect was her crown of hair,
Perfect most of all her song.

Yesterday beneath an oak,
She was chanting in the wood;
Wandering harmonies awoke;
Sleeping echoes understood.

Today without a song, without a word,
She seems to drag one piteous fallen wing
Along the ground, and, like a wounded bird,
Move silent, having lost the heart to sing.

She was young and blithe and fair,
Firm of purpose, sweet and strong;
Perfect was her crown of hair,
Perfect most of all her song.

THE CRIME WAVE CONTINUES

By DR. FRANK CRANE

THE other day when I picked up my paper I discovered three items which go to show the pernicious and continuous activity of those hypocritical and puritanical wretches who are intent on destroying the beautiful and comfortable belief in pessimism.

Item one was about that grand rascal, Henry Ford, at whose name many a nose is turned up and many a newspaper editor sees red.

The latest outrageous performance of Mr. Ford was that he had reimbursed all the creditors of the Lincoln Motor Car company at a cost of approximately $4,000,000 despite the fact that he was not required to do so under the terms of his purchase. This announcement was made by Ralph Stone, president of the Detroit Trust company, who was receiver for the Lincoln company. All creditors received 100 cents on the dollar instead of 47 1/2 per cent, which was all that remained of the proceeds of the sale after the preferred claims were made. Besides doing this, Mr. Ford reimbursed the seven former directors of the Lincoln company, who had indorsed its paper.

By this unwarranted act Mr. Ford has given another blow to our orthodox belief in the reality, selfishness and greed of people who have more money than we have.

The second item was that Lady Astor had made a speech in the house of parliament in England in favor of a bill to prohibit selling alcoholic liquors to boys and girls under eighteen.

In the course of her remarks she said that the bill was supported by teachers and behind them were all organized women, the heads of the great schools, chief medical authorities and the churches. The medical men of all countries, she said, were agreed as to the danger of any alcohol during the period of adolescence.

There it goes again! The idea of such people as church members, physicians, women and teachers butting into politics and particularly interfering with the saloon business! If this sort of thing keeps on the world will soon be governed by mollycoddles and it will be no place to live for a regular he-man that chews tobacco and knows how to use cuss words.

It is time the political bosses of the country got together and organized to stay this invasion of puritanism.

In fact Walter Greaves-Lord, a member of parliament, moved for the rejection of Lady Astor's bill declaring that it was merely an entering wedge for prohibition. So that at least some one is alive to our dangers.

The third item is to the effect that the King of England actually sat down to dinner with a lot of working men. The terrible consequences of this sort of thing are beyond the powers of four pen to describe.

(Copyrighted, 1923, by Dr. Frank Crane)

EASTERN POINT OF VIEW

BORAH'S BELATED CONVERSION

[St. Louis Post-Dispatch] Notwithstanding the militancy of Mr. Borah's resolution to outlaw international war it slumbers down in the end to the logic of common sense. Our supreme court, he says, has exercised jurisdiction between the sovereign states without resort to force for 135 years. True. But here is the joker in Mr. Borah's plan. The supreme court for these 135 years has had behind it the force of the executive branch of the government. Without this force we do not know whether it would have exercised its jurisdiction or not. We believe it would not.

The League of Nations also has a supreme court, for which Senator Borah had nothing good to say during the treaty fight. And, analogous to the executive branch of our government it has Article X to back up the court. It was not the expectation of the advocates of the league that Article X would be used, but it was there as an inducement to members to respect the authority of the international court. Moreover, the league covenant provides machinery for arbitration and delays to prevent hasty declarations of war. Borah's plan contains no such safeguards.

Mr. Borah had a chance in 1920 to take a stand for an international court. He had a chance to stand for a practical organization for the preservation of peace to which we were invited by the other powers who won the war. Spurning to embrace that opportunity, he now advances a pious wish embodying the same

OBSERVED AT A GLANCE

By HENRY JAMES

People were asked to pay their income taxes with a smile, but they had to use money also.

Even a movie star does not care for publicity in connection with the bootlegging business.

Ganna Waleska did not sing while here. Reporters had a hard time even to make her talk.

The urbanity of China's demand that Japan return certain property, doubtless will be matched by the courtesy with which Japan will decline.

Senator Brookhart's belief that he belongs to the republican party seems to be largely theoretical.

German miners have found that French francs talk louder than the mark of Germany.

Sag Harbor is said to possess a set of millionaire bootleggers, all of whom doubtless consider themselves quite respectable.

principle but lacking the power of enforcement. Mr. Borah, however, be it acknowledged, has learned more rapidly and has been more willing to manifest a change of heart than any other member of the senate.

COMMENT ON DAY'S NEWS

By HENRY JAMES

Tacoma is to have a Linhard hotel, and is to be congratulated. Here in California Linnard is regarded as the prince of hosts, and under his direction a hotel just naturally has to succeed.

The new hotel will tend to increase the intimacy of southern California with the northwest. Tacoma, situated on the bluffs above Commencement bay, an arm of Puget sound, is as fair a city as the sun shines on. All about it are scenic splendors. Rising above it, crowned the year around with snow, is the noble Mount Tacoma. (please avoid calling it "Rainier" while at Tacoma). Nearby are great lakes, and the most picturesque waterfalls. There is a road to Paradise valley, a splendid, winding highway into the midst of natural beauties nowhere, exalted. The forests may be seen, still virgin, unscarred by axe, and great stretches never yet touched by fire.

The whole aspect is that of charm different from the charm of southern California, so that one region really is the complement of the other. To know the Pacific coast one should be familiar with both.

An ideal tour would be one taking in both southern California and the Puget sound area. This would lead through San Francisco and northern California, across Oregon and into Washington. The trip may be made by automobile, by rail or by boat.

Crossing the continent by the northern route, then down the coast, or crossing by the southern route, and then up the coast, ought to be the program for the tourist.

Two women went on the bond of an accused bunko man for $10,000. Having procured his liberty, the crook went his way, as might have been expected. He had been given the opportunity to turn just one more trick. Now the women, both widows, are likely to be sued on the bond, and if made to pay, will be left penniless. It is a hard situation. The women ought to have known better.

The old saying that there is honor among thieves has no application in cases where the thieves are of the bunko pattern. The courts wisely might adopt the plan of setting bail so high for such offenders that even a foolish woman would decline to give it.

The news that senators who had planned to visit Russia have changed their minds is welcome. While senators are not faultless, and sometimes have been subjected to censure, there is no desire to have them exposed either to the typhus-laden cootie, or the equally poisonous germ of bolshevism.

Major S. K. Hooper, for many years general passenger agent of the Rio Grande at Denver, is dead, having reached the age of eighty-four. He had served four years in the Civil war. There never has been a more popular man in the railroad business. He was first to show his belief in the value of publicity for a line catering to travel.

"S. K." was the title by which intimates knew him. It is doubtful if many of them realized until they saw it in the formal death notice, that their friend had been happy under the name of Shadrach.

There is a type of radical who desires and plots for the overthrow of the government. As to the accomplishment of this purpose he is not dangerous. The trouble is that while trying to carry out his futile schemes, he resorts to violence that is likely to be both annoying and destructive.

The fellow who skulks in the work, keeping hidden while urging his moron following to throw bombs, is the one who needs watching. So far as concerns the poor nut who mends a soap-box and froths at the mouth, he is a rather pathetic figure, and often not so desperate but that a square meal would reform him.

Within a few miles of this community is produced one-fifth of all the petroleum of the United States. Naturally the industry is of great importance. Directly and indirectly it employs thousands of men. It has resulted in great fortunes, and in many fairly successful investments. But such a huge industry gives opportunity for crookedness.

People who buy oil stocks from strangers are likely to get no oil beyond that carried personally by the city-tongued sharp. This does not lead to the declaration of dividends. There are plenty of opportunities for sound investments in the field, and no excuse for venturing blindly.

A Los Angeles druggist having been robbed at the pistol's point once, procured a pistol of his own. The next thief who walked in and told him to elevate his hands, got what was coming to him, as the saying is, and was taken to the morgue. Probably nobody desires to kill even a robber, and yet there must be a grim satisfaction in doing it when necessity arises.

Singularly enough, this thief was known by day as an honest workman. He had a job and attended to it. At nightfall he assumed the role of criminal, and seemed for a time to be quite successful. He did not need to steal. He enjoyed the experience.

Somehow this seems to confirm the belief that it takes all kinds of people to make a world. The world would be glad were a few varieties to be omitted from its make-up.

WATCHING THE PARADE

BY JOHN PILGRIM

The Colonel says he is persuaded there is something in this idea of Dr. Coue's.

"You can think yourself into doing things," he said. "I'm sure of it. When I was a young man I was possessed of violent opinions in a part of the country in which you had to back up what you said. And I got along all right."

"Elucidate," said I.

"Well," said he, "I never got licked."

Maybe I looked a bit incredulous. That sort of thing simply does not happen as a habit. Jack Dempsey was licked many a time before he came to his own. No doubt he will be licked again one of these days. That may be said of every other fighter.

"Anyhow," said the Colonel, "I never thought I was licked."

That's more like it. I happen to know something of his career. He came mighty near being a millionaire in Denver once. Would have been, except that the stocks went down instead of up. He got into a fight over this misadventure. Maybe he won the fight, as he says, but when he came on to New York, looking for a job, there were still marks on his face. He landed in town with $18 and broke his last $5 bill before he got a job.

"I had to have a job," he said. "There wasn't any argument about that. I needed it."

"Did you ever think that you might possibly not get it?"

"No, sir," said the Colonel, stoutly.

That wasn't all he wanted. He needed a better job and more money. The slow but sure scheme was not his at all. He changed jobs every time he saw a better one in sight until he got enough to pay board for two. Then he sent to Denver for the $1 to come on and get married. He had $40 and a week's board paid after he had settled with the minister, but he was sure of himself.

"On the level," said the Colonel, "Coue's got it. Be sure of yourself. Then you'll win."

Any doctor will tell you the health value of ICE!

The best method of conserving food is by means of cold, uniform temperature. Bacterial action is rapid in warm or changing temperatures; and even when deterioration is not apparent, much of the nutritive value of the food is lost.

During these Spring days, when temperature changes are rapid, ice is necessary. The safe way is to keep your refrigerator always well filled.

Ice is inexpensive and essential to good health. It doesn't pay to do without it at any time of the year.

WAR, WAR, WAR, SAYS TROTSKY OF THE SOVIET

Can See Nothing in the Future He Asserts

By LEON TROTSKY
Minister of War of the Republic of Russia.

MOSCOW (By mail to the United Press).—We enter upon the second five years with a large fund of experience. What are its outstanding results? In what was our strength and, above all, in what our weakness? Without the realization of one's own weakness there can be no advance.

We were victorious through the incalculable self-sacrifice of the revolutionary advance guard and the countless peasant reserves. Those two chief assets remain with us for the future. The peasant reserves will continue to be drawn even more into the advance guard of the workers, whose political level, we hope, will steadily rise.

But these two elements chiefly responsible for our victory have an obviously non-military character. They are inherent in the social character of the Soviet power—in the class qualities of the proletariat. The Red Army of the past five years was a rough attempt to employ these, our most important assets, for military purposes. Thus we saved ourselves the cost of the greatest sacrifices. Military art, however, as every other art, consists in the accomplishment of results with the minimum of efforts.

Without enthusiasm and self-sacrifice there is no struggle and no victory. All our mistakes in organization, instruction, military equipment, we offset by the numerical strength of our reserves or by the invincible heroism of the advance guard. And both numerical strength and heroism will be needed in the future. But we must equip them with training and technique.

The Russian Problem

These are the two main channels along which our efforts will be directed in the second five years—individual and collective military training and military technique. We have decreased the army to 600,000. Here arises the problem of raising the army to the level, for example, of the former trained non-commissioned officers, adaptable to the new conditions and to the new form of military organization.

This is not at all a utopian idea. The city workers and the peasant youth both come to the army with awakened responsiveness. The awakening of the thirst for knowledge and the developed mental activity of the great masses are at present the greatest victory of the revolution. A properly established system of the pre-conscription preparation will guarantee us in the near future a radical improvement of the qualifications of the whole army and a corresponding ability to absorb mobilized millions in time of necessity.

The second problem is that of technique. What are the prospects here? Tsarism recruited its army with the aid of foreign technique. This was natural, for tsarism itself was a part of the groupings of the so-called European balance of power. We, however, are looked upon by the bourgeoisie as a wedge, impeding and undermining every balance of capitalistic peace. Consequently, we cannot depend upon help from capitalistic Europe or America. For this reason our own efforts in this direction are of great importance. Military technique depends upon the technique of the general economy. This means that miraculous progress in matters of armament and general equipment of the army is out of the question. Only systematic efforts and gradual improvements are possible.

But this does not by any means exclude great victories in a short period of time in important special fields. The entire economy of the Soviet Republic, after periods of severe disintegration, is reviving and advancing. Our problem consists in placing the military industry in especially favorable conditions, without detriment, of course, to the general economy, and to advance these branches in the military industry which are now of particular importance to us.

Aviation is Important

Such undoubtedly is aviation. This kind of military equipment and this branch of industry we must, during the coming year at least, make the center of attraction of the entire country. This is possible in view of the fact that in the field of aviation purely military requirements are more closely connected with economic and cultural interests of the country. Aviation is an advanced, modern method of overcoming distance. Its future is incalculable, and it is necessary that our youth should be more widely absorbed in the idea of the growth and development of airplanes. In this work our technicians, our teachers, our poets and our artists should be interested.

We are considering the problem of the army for the second five years. I doubt whether anyone will accuse us just now of attempting to look too far ahead; because it is obvious that we shall need the Red Army next year, and two and five years later.

The revolutionary development of Europe may, it is true, after the present relative lull, take on all at once a more turbulent hearing. But it is undeniable that the period of imperialist wars and revolutionary upheavals will continue not for months, not for years, but for decades, seizing the world after short-breathing spells with new and more painful and more serious spasms. If this is true, serious and durable preparation is necessary.

When two women talk the subject of their conversation is conspicuously absent.

Dreams of Sunny Isles Entice Many Americans

HONOLULU, T. H., March 23.—The United States harbors a large number of citizens who would be kings, according to letters applying for royal jobs, which have found their way to Governor Wallace R. Farrington. They come as a result of an apparently widespread misconception of the South Seas.

The applicants got busy after reading a mainland newspaper article headed, "Rulers Wanted for Island in South Seas," and the erroneous information that "details might be obtained from the American Consul at Honolulu." The deluge of letters that followed found their way, in the absence of an American consul at Honolulu, to the American governor of the American territory of Hawaii.

The newspaper article was part of a series entitled "Life as it really is in the South Seas." The first article, according to information here, began with the question: "How would you like to be the ruler of a South Sea island?" Apparently the number of American citizens who crave to don royal paraphernalia in some far-off palmed, tropic island is legion. The applicants included insurance salesmen, farmers, university students, oil men, cowboys, clerks and bankers. The position of king was described as not arduous, hours not long, and with continued series of "tall glasses of amber rum punch" always at the elbow of the monarch. The only disadvantage to the job was given as "the loneliness, which grows."

One applicant wrote: "Seeing recently in one of our Texas papers an article in regards to king's jobs in the South Sea Islands, would you kindly furnish me with the information in regards to king's job in said island? What part of the islands are men wanted, what experience is necessary, if transportation is furnished, what salary is paid, and under whom does the applicant work if awarded a position? Is it a U. S. government position, or is it a local concern? Any other information you can furnish will be appreciated."

Another applicant states his qualifications in these words: "My dear Consul: This story appeals to the writer, and if there is anything to it would be pleased to get in touch with the maker of kings. Have had lots of experience handling men and conducting business, and am sure I could learn how to make copra. If you know anything about this, put me next and the favor will be appreciated."

Governor Farrington will answer all the applicants.

Holsteins Make New Production Records

CHICAGO, March 23.—The 1922 leaders in the seven classes of different ages of pure-bred Holstein cows produced on average of 29,055 pounds of milk and 1250 pounds of butter in one year. In the full age and senior four-year classes previous records were broken according to a report of the national headquarters of the Holstein-Friesian Association.

During the year, 18,000 cows were tested for production and since the establishment of the official test, 95,000 cows have passed the production required for their age, the report stated. All tests are supervised by state colleges of agriculture. Last year, 18,772 Holsteins were registered with the association.

In the full age class, May Walker Ollie Homestead, owned by the Minnesota Holstein company at Austin, displaced Dutchess Skylark Ormsby, a Washington state cow, with a production of 31,600 pounds of milk and 1523 pounds of butter. Grahamholm Colantha Pauline Segis, a Minnesota cow, displaced another Minnesota cow in the senior four-year class with a record of 34,291 pounds of milk and 1426 pounds of butter.

In the junior four-year class, Mamsell Johanna, owned by C. L. Spaulding of Warren, Minnesota, stood highest for the year with a record of 31,515 pounds of milk and 1317 pounds of butter. Countess Matador Segis, the senior three-year champion from Washington, produced 25,217 pounds of milk and 1159 pounds of butter. Junior three-year champion, Princess Matilda Veeman, owned by Earl Graham of Compton, California, produced 29,669 pounds of milk and 1154 pounds of butter. Colony Grebega Valdesa, senior two-year champion, produced 23,371 pounds of milk and 1095 pounds of butter. She is owned by Colony farm, Escondido, B. C. In the junior two-year class, Daisy Aaggle Ormsby, owned by John Erickson of Wausau, Wisconsin, was high cow for the year. She produced 22,151 pounds of milk and 1088 pounds of butter.

MEN'S CLUB OF ST. MARK'S HAS FINE MEETING

Members of the newly organized
Men's club of St. Mark's church met Wednesday evening at the church and listened to an excellent talk by E. N. Howard, secretary of the Diocesan Men's club on the fundamental reasons for the establishment of men's clubs in the church. He made the point that if it is a good thing to have a Rotary club or a Business men's club, it is equally a good thing to have a churchmen's club because there are things regarding church life and spiritual development which it is necessary for men to consider. He stressed the idea that to succeed a men's club must be grouped on service to the church and the community. Mr. Carre is president of the club which meets the third Wednesday in every month, and Frank Booth is corresponding secretary.

LUXOR AWAKENED FROM ITS SLEEP OF MANY AGES

[By Associated Press]
VALLEY OF THE KINGS,
LUXOR, EGYPT, Mar. 23.—Luxor, like King Tutankhamun, has been roused from its repose of 3,000 years and is taking on something of the habits and characteristics of a twentieth century town. For ages a conventional stopping place for Nile excursion steamers and tourists, it has lately become a center for people of all classes, including students, college professors, antiquarians, doctors, undertakers, dressmakers and souvenir hunters.
The newly found tomb of Tutank-hamun is the magnet that draws them all. Tourists are attracted here out of curiosity, but professional men and women, undertakers, embalmers, dressmakers, and milliners come in the hope of getting new ideas for their business from the mummy chamber of the ancient king.

Foley's Friendly Fancies

JAMES W. FOLEY

CONFESSION

I like the warm and friendly hand,
I like the cheerful smile;
I like the good old chum who comes
To talk with me a while.
I like to have the old friend sit
And smoke a while—I do.
And, yes, I like a little bit
Of flattery—don't you?

Yes, I am vain, I will agree.
Although I know it's wrong,
But I confess it tickles me
When they string me along.
It makes me feel almighty good,
Though it may not be true;
I like it even though I should
Not take it in—don't you?

I like a little word of praise,
I like to have them say
I'm just about the best they know
In my own special way.
I do my utmost not to blush
As some of us might do,
Nor do I ever tell them hush
As I should do—do you?

I know I'm not the best there is,
As poets come and go,
But if you say you think I am,
I will not say you no.
Perhaps I am the best, who knows?
It surely might be true,
And if it's not I like to think
It might be so—don't you?

BALKAN QUEEN HOPES TO VISIT HERE SOON

[By Associated Press]
BUCHAREST, Mar. 23.—Queen
Marie of Roumania hopes sometime in the near future to realize her long-cherished wish to visit the United States. While political and economic conditions in Roumania are not so encouraging as they might be, the queen believes her people can spare her for a few months to enable her to accept the offered hospitality of the American people. Heretofore the marriage of her three eldest children, her own coronation and the continued unsettlement of internal affairs in Greater Roumania have kept the queen from crossing the Atlantic.

PROJECT TO SEGREGATE CHICAGO STREET TRAFFIC

[By Associated Press]
CHICAGO, Mar. 23.—Technical experts of the Chicago Plan Commission are working out a comprehensive street plan for the city that will segregate various kinds of traffic, and provide specific streets for specified varieties of traffic.

One system of thoroughfares will be restricted to light, rapid-moving vehicles and another to heavy slow-moving ones. The width of the streets will be adjusted to the types and volume of traffic they will be called upon to bear, and pavements of all streets will be especially designed to accommodate the kind of traffic that will use them.
